

« Never get enough » (Little Bob)

I'd like to say a prayer, a prayer for the years gone by
I use to be a mover, fortune kiss me for a while

Don't you know that I want, I want to be alone with you
Don't you know that I want, I want to be alone with you

Well, here comes the night, I remember when I was alone
We were waisting time, when time waits for no-one

Don't you know that I want, just to be alone with you
Don't you know that I want, just to be alone with you
'Cause I never get enough, never get enough of your love
Like the waves on the ocean, always coming on the shore

Her house get crowded, I couldn't stand her company
Talking 'bout things, didn't mean a damn to me

Don't you know that I want, just to be alone with you
Don't you know that I want, just to be alone with you
'Cause I never get enough, never get enough of your love
Like the waves on the ocean, always coming on the shore

Never, (never) never, never get enough
Never, (never) never, never get enough
Never, (never) never, never get enough
Oh, oh, oh, Never, never, never get enough
Babe babe never, never, never get enough

Babe babe never, never, never...
